

Omaha Tribe Studied By Committee

Five University Students Take Trip to Indian Reservation to Learn Tribal Secrets.

SPONSORED BY GATEWAY

Five members of the special Indian committee appointed by The Gateway swooped down upon Macy, Neb., a week ago Tuesday. About twenty Indians were contacted.

The expedition resulted in no serious casualties, no deaths, and for a while it seemed hardly worth while to have gone.

The trip, ostensibly for the purpose of collecting Omaha Indian lore, seemed more like a naval engagement. Virginia Lee Long, Anette Lloyd, Howard Wilcox, George Knipprath, and Martin Speckter made the journey. They can be easily identified by the mud on their clothing.

Plans for continuing on to Winnebago were changed, as bad weather and worse roads would not permit travel any farther. The Omaha tribe at Macy was visited, however, and a cordial reception was given once it was discovered that the visitors had nothing to sell.

Over bowls of chili and crackers, interesting bits of legends were told, and the committee was amply repaid for the journey.

The five students returned early Tuesday evening.

W. A. A. Soccer Feed Attended by Many

Thirty-eight people were present at the W. A. A. Soccer Feed last Tuesday in the Women's Faculty Building. Mary Rigg and Hortense Geisler were in charge of the dinner.

The toastmistress, Hortense Geisler, introduced the players, as follows: "The Forward"—Winifred Whipple, "The Halfback"—Alice Hillstrom, "The Fullback"—Honora Swiger, and "The Goalkeeper"—Phyllis Knudsen. The members then gave a rising vote of thanks to Josephine Waite, who furnished the table with the placecards.

Stunts and games preceded the banquet and the regular meeting was held after the meal was served.

Something New! A "Vice-Versa" Dance in Gym, Saturday, December 15

The girls will invite the boys. The femmes will also call for their dates.

And to top it all off, the beautiful babes will take the he-men out after the dance and pay for the eats.

No, boys, it isn't April Fool or our idea of heaven—it's the big "Vice-Versa Dance" to be held in the Omaha University gym Saturday evening, December 15, beginning promptly at 9 p. m.

The affair is being sponsored by the University Pep Squad and the "Q" club to raise money for the purchase of gold football watch

BETA TAU KAPPA HOP IN GYM SATURDAY

Beta Tau Kappa fraternity will hold its second annual pledge dance in Jacob's Hall, Saturday night, starting at 9 o'clock. One hundred and twenty-five bids have been issued for the affair.

A blue and white decorative theme will be used, and the Campus Club orchestra will play. Sylvan J. Frankel and Macy Baum are in charge.

Questionnaire Is Sent To Schools

If Replies Are Favorable, Junior Academy Would Be Established.

"Study of science ends in the high school for the majority of the students," an excerpt from a questionnaire sent to over 200 accredited Nebraska high schools, states. Because of this belief, several teachers and students of Omaha University sent out this questionnaire and are desirous of arousing interest in the formation of a Junior Academy of Science among the high schools of Nebraska.

This movement is being sponsored by Miss Nell Ward, Associate Professor of Chemistry, and Lyman Cook, Anna Thurston, Amorette Holmes, Ruth Brodbeck, William Haberstroh, John Burke, and Louis Schönlau. After compiling the results from the returned questionnaires, the information will be submitted to the Senior Academy of Science. If the replies are favorable, it is planned that a Junior Academy would be established and sponsored by the Senior Academy.

Since only a very small percentage of people ever go to college, it is evident that scientific principles must be instilled in high school. The Junior Academy of Science would be similar to the Senior Academy, but would cover only scientific studies that would be of interest to high school students. Similar organizations have been formed in 13 states, including Iowa, Kansas and Illinois, with varying degrees of success. This committee from Omaha University hopes that Nebraska high schools will be enough interested in forming an organization of this type that there will be no delay in its formation.

Robert Saxton, '34, is now attending the University of Omaha night Law School.

Ace Reporter Lauds Cardinal Grid Machine

MARTIN PRAISES

By WHITNEY MARTIN
(Bee-News Sports Staff)

The writer regrets that it was his privilege to see Coach Sed Hartman's University of Omaha football team in action in only two games in 1934, but without reservation he can attest it was one of the smoothest, best co-ordinated and spirited college elevens he has ever seen.

Tackling an ambitious schedule, which opened with a game with the always powerful North Dakota machine, the Cards came through with a creditable performance in every game, and climaxed their campaign with a brilliant victory over Chadron. They rolled up 97 points against 16 for their opponents, and 14 of the opponents' points were registered by North Dakota.

The Chadron game, which gave Coach Sed Hartman and his boys the N. I. A. A. championship, was one of the most thrilling and bit-terly fought contests ever played on any gridiron, and the manner

Men Get Smoking Room Privileges

A new smoking lounge for men students will probably be arranged by University officials in the near future in the men's faculty building. It was announced Wednesday.

The new smoking room is the result of the terrific campaign conducted by the Student Council for several semesters, in an effort to give the tired male student a place to relax.

The room will probably be located where Dr. Rhoads' office now is.

The date for the first smoker has not, as yet, been set, but it will be some time in the near future.

Nineteen Gridders Awarded Letters

Nineteen Omaha University grid-ders have been announced by Coach Sed Hartman as winners of the University "O" for the season just concluded. Because they are conference champions the players will be awarded white instead of the usual red sweaters.

The lettermen are Kenneth Turner, Leo Pearcy, Gene Hoover, Royce Brown, Morris Loder, Fred "Tippy" Tyler, Claude Hender, Jimmie James, Don Minikus, Norman Sorenson, Howard Sorenson, Bob Elliott, Gerald Gardner, Ray Francis, Frank Hummel, Noel King, Frank Crawford, Loren Gammon and Harold Johnk.

Dr. Ralph R. Winn, City College of New York instructor of philosophy, claims that the student who sleeps during lectures retains the greatest amount of information being disseminated. —New Mexico Lobo.

Sealock, Hartman To NCC Meeting

Believed Will Receive Formal Bid to Enter N. C. C. Competition.

President Sealock and Coach Sed Hartman left Wednesday evening for the North Central Conference meeting in Chicago. They will arrive in time to attend the meeting scheduled to get under way Thursday.

It is thought that they will receive a formal invitation to become a member of the conference. Iowa State Teachers' College has also received an invitation to attend the meeting and will be on hand when the conference convenes.

The athletic board of advisors postponed action upon the proposal until President Sealock returns and presents more concrete facts.

President Sealock and Hartman favor joining the North Central Conference and think it will be a big step in the right direction of gaining prestige and support from the local fans. Hartman said that while he had made agreements with N. I. A. A. coaches for football games next fall, he felt sure that they would not stand in the way of Omaha joining up with the North Central Conference.

What will Omaha University do, accept or not accept? That is the uppermost question in the minds of the students.

For it became known Wednesday.

Fifth Symposium at Payne Home Tonight

Dr. Wilfred Payne's fifth symposium will meet at Dr. Payne's home, Friday, December 7, at 8 p. m. to discuss "The Modern Scene."

Students who will participate in the discussion are Howard Kiefe, Lois Button, William Holland, Erval McIlvain, Clarence Slayton, Dorothy Cogswell, James McCreary, and Louis Diamantis.

"The Modern Scene," according to Dr. Payne, will attempt to discover the source of modern thought.

"Instead of learning from philosophers' bulletins," said Dr. Payne, "my students are attempting to find the ultimate source of modern conduct." All participants are members of Dr. Payne's classes.

Among the guests will be Dr. Benjamin Boyce, Dr. Lyman Harris, Miss Ann Knouse, Mr. McAlvie Rosewater, and Mrs. Dorothy Payne Hawley.

6-2 Win Over Chadron Brings League Title

LATE TALLY WINS

By MACY BAUM

For the first time in history the Nebraska Inter-collegiate Athletic Association football championship rests at Omaha university. Brought here by Coach Sed Hartman and his scrappy, hard-playing Cardinals, whose never-say-die spirit brought a last-minute victory over the Chadron Eagles in their final game, the conference grid title comes as a fitting climax to the most successful football season on Omaha's athletic records.

When the Cards went to Chadron two weeks ago, they were in second place in the N. I. A. A. conference standings. A scoreless tie with Wayne on a swampy field had forced them behind the Chadronites, who had a season record of three conference victories and were favored to win their second successive league championship.

With only 42 seconds of play remaining in the final quarter it looked as though pre-game predictions of a Chadron win would be correct, for the outstated, playing a hard-tackling, precise game before a large home crowd, went into the final minute secure that they could protect the precious

Seven Lettermen Report at Drill

Coach Sed Hartman, fresh from a successful grid campaign that brought the Omaha Uni the conference championship, greeted sixteen basketballers Monday and began whipping them into shape for the tilt with the North Dakota quintet December 20.

Seven lettermen, members of last year's championship team, and the nine new men out have moved Hartman so much that he visions another "best" team. The lettermen are Marlin Wilkinson, Carl Baade, Lloyd Patterson, Harold Johnk, Lowell Curtis, Bob Brown, and Gene Hoover, and the others are Clarence Bolte, Maurice Krauth, Dale Wolfe, Gerald Gardner, Bill Nelson, Leo Peary, Royce Brown, Claude Hender, and Loren Gammon, John Kosak, Lester Boldenow, Frank Hummel, Lou Weiner.

In all the workouts this week the first team, composed of Wilkinson and Patterson, forwards; Baade, center; Captain Curtis, and Harold Johnk, guards, showed mid-season form against a team composed of Bolte and Krauth, forwards; Wolfe, center; Gardner and Nelson, guards. Bob Brown, Leo Peary, Royce Brown, and Loren Gammon interchanged positions in the second team. Gene Hoover and Claude Hender are out, but are not taking an active part in the scrimmages, for they are still suffering from football injuries.

Jack Niamann, ex-'36, may return to school next semester.

JOIN CONFERENCE

The invitation to join the North Central Conference which has been extended Omaha University is one which should be accepted by the University, the Gateway believes.

The North Central conference, composed of four state universities—North Dakota, South Dakota State, North Dakota State, and South Dakota, and Morningside college of Sioux City, Ia.—enjoys an enviable reputation in mid-western athletic circles. Its standards are high, eligibility requirements are strictly enforced, and athletic teams produced each year by conference members, each year rank among the best in the midlands. North Dakota State, winner of the conference football title this year, lost only one game, and that to the great eleven produced at Minnesota.

Joining the North Central conference would not only enhance the prestige of Omaha University's athletic teams, but would solve for Coach Sed Hartman the problem of securing enough football and basketball games to round out a schedule. It is no secret that the Omaha University finds it difficult to schedule games of a desirable type. A round robin schedule with the other five teams in the North Central would create more interest in athletics at Omaha University. The Cardinals would be placed in the front rank among athletic teams in the midlands.

Another factor which should be taken into consideration by the administration before making a decision on the invita-

THE KEYHOLE

Wade Knapp seems to be the big demand around the campus these days....C. Fisher asked him to the Phi Sig dance and then up comes her buddy, Marg. Clark, and asks him to the Pi O formal....she also asked Carson Rogers to the Sig Chi formal....seems as though her one and only will be out of town over the holidays.... Reports from Birchwood last week says that Moucka was really that way about a little honey named Mary....and she is still in high school....Norm Sorenson seems to be hanging around Barbara Fair a lot lately....they seem just about as friendly as Peary and Bostwick....It's really not news any more, but some may not know that Dorothy Young was (or is) wearing Ray's Theta pin.... Margaret Rhoads seemed to be all a-thrill over a certain stranger on the campus last week....I think Sed should put Jackson and Weber on his first team, they hit the loop with monotonous regularity....We were all surprised to see "Little Brother" (Benny) turn up at the Theta with Margaret Higgins and then see her dance with Bill Arthur all evening....The Gammas received quite a jolt when they heard Kenny Hargrove was going steady....Congrats to Dr. Stimson and Miss Diamond, who were elected sponsors of the Senior Class....All the girls will have their inning next week at the Pep Club's Vice Versa dance.

tion, is that the public, in general, judges a university by its athletic teams and the conference in which it holds membership. Unfortunate as this may be, it is true, and should receive consideration. It is also true that playing a more attractive schedule would increase attendance at Omaha's home games, while attracting more high school athletes to the University.

In view of the record made by Omaha athletic teams the past four years, there is no doubt that the Cardinals could compete on equal terms with present members of the North Central conference. Another desirable feature is that the North Central conference is a compact group, covering scarcely more territory than the N. I. A. A. Long, expensive railroad trips would not be necessary to compete in the North Central. Brookings, S. D., Sioux City, Ia., and Vermillion, S. D., are all less than 200 miles from Omaha. A trip to Grand Forks, N. D., would be the farthest journey the Cardinals would have to make.

Omaha University can well accept the invitation of the North Central conference and the Gateway, as representative of the student body, joins in asking the administration to consider carefully the invitation and to do everything possible to make Omaha a member of the North Central conference.—(F. B.)

School Clinics Being Conducted

The University of Omaha through the Extension division is conducting a series of high school clinics this year. Their purpose is to supply expert help to students and to the schools they represent in the debating, solo music, declamatory work, and various kinds of music.

Dr. Benjamin Boyce is in charge of the debating clinics, Mr. Martin Bush, Mr. Henry Cox, and Mrs. Carol Pitts are conducting the music clinic, and Dr. Gilbert James is helping those who desire instruction in the art of declamation. In the spring Miss Diamond will hold a playday for the girls attending schools around Omaha in conjunction with the introduction of an invitation track meet.

"This is a device by which the University of Omaha is attempting to render a piece of creative service for the teachers and students in the surrounding schools," commented Mr. Everett Hosman. The several projects are under the direction of Mr. Hosman and Dr. Leslie Taylor, who is co-ordinator for the whole project.

Appoint Scout Delegates

Three delegates were appointed to the National Scout Fraternity Convention in Kansas City, Missouri, Friday and Saturday, Dec. 28-29, at the regular Scout Fraternity meeting, held in the Paxton hotel, Monday, November 26. The delegates chosen were George Alexander, Perry Rushlau, and Marion Earhart. The rest of the evening was spent in discussing the program of service for the coming year.

Paleface Caravan Finds Indian Hospitality Extremely Gratifying

We went just for the ride; just for the ride; just for the ride. We went to Macy, just for the ride. Jji-u-u-u-st for the rril-ild!

One week after it is all over, and still we can't think of anything but the ride. Muddy roads, gravel roads, sticky roads, slippery roads, wide roads, narrow roads, bad roads. All roads, long roads, Doe Rhoads, and roads to ruin.

One wonders how the Indians ever reached their present degree of civilization. Living in such a place, I think they are doing remarkably well. The Omaha Indians, the storekeeper told me, are increasing. I can well believe it. At least, the tribe is safe enough from any contamination through contact with the Omaha whites.

Seriously, though, the trip did us good. Virginia needed the sleep. Annette needed the experience. Howard needed the thrill. And George Knipprath needed the air. We almost gave it to him several times.

We found the Indian reservation to be just what we expected. It was dirty—not a paved street there. It was small—many of the tribe live in the country on their farms.

What we didn't expect was the wonderful and pleasant way in which we were met wherever we went. Of course, we didn't expect to be physically ejected, but our reception by the Indians was most gratifying. And the pains which the Omahas took to answer our

SPECKTER BACK WITH FOB; INDIAN PRESENT

The Federal government long ago prohibited the Omaha Indians from indulging in their "Giving Away Game," but at least one member of the Indian committee returned with a souvenir.

A beaded watch-fob was presented to Martin Speckter by one of the Indian chiefs. The fob depicts life in the form of a cardinal, red-bird, representing the sun, and a flower, representing growth.

The gift was made by Chief There-He-Stands.

Miss Ruth Diamond, Director of Physical Education for Women, and Dr. Claude Stimson, head of Department of Economics, were chosen faculty sponsors of the Senior class at a meeting Monday noon.

May 17 was selected as the annual Senior Recognition Day. Other business included a discussion concerning the A. J. Dunlap memorial fund, and the appointment of an official class photographer.

Mary Rigg, Senior class president, presided over the meeting.

Sigma Tau Delta Meets

A talk on Spanish literature by Mrs. V. H. Vartanian, Spanish instructor at Central High school, will be the feature of the meeting of Sigma Tau Delta, Tuesday evening, at 8:30 in the Women's Faculty building.

Students Take Part in German Contest

Twenty-five students participated in the annual German Declamatory Contest Tuesday night, December 4, in the auditorium, with more than fifty people in the audience.

The judges were Mrs. Thea Moeller-Herms, Carl J. Peter, Carl Gloe, and Theodore Peter. They awarded prizes to Dorothy Hesbacher for her presentation of "Wanderers Nachtlied" by Goethe, and second prize went to J. Westbrook Macpherson. They were the two winners picked from sixteen first year students of German in Group I. In the second group, composed of advanced German students, there were seven vying for honors. Lyman Cook took first prize for his selection, "Im Sterbezimmer von Hinderburgs," and Olive Musil received second prize.

Speakers, in the order of their appearance, were Virginia Harkins, Edgar Howe, Harold Janoff, Maxine Marrs, Mary Maxwell, Nathan Scott, Philip Steele, William Holland, David Hubler, Vance Senter, Dorothy Koser, Dorothy Hesbacher, Emilie Schnell, Lloyd Lee, Henry Levels, J. Westbrook Macpherson, Charles Horejs, Bernard Pawloski, Olive Musil, Mary Rigg, Arthur King, Kathryn Miller, and Lyman Cook. Tom Jones sang two songs, and Bernard Pawloski played a piano solo. The program was concluded with several songs sung in German by the whole audience.

Martin K. Speckter, president of the German club, presided. Miss Hildegard Stausas, sponsor of the German club, and Dr. V. Royce West, head of the Department of Foreign Languages, were the only speakers who were not student members of the club.

CHRISTENINGS MADE KNOWN ON CAMPUS

The Gateway is happy to announce several Christenings on the campus.

Annette Lloyd, also a Pi O, is now "The Suede Shoe Kid." (Not the suede kid shoe.)

Howard Wilcox, "Sniffing Buffalo."

George Knipprath, the photographer of the investigation committee, "Chief Camera Washout."

Martin K. Speckter, heretofore known affectionately to his friends as "that damned Gateway reporter," is now "Chief Corduroy, leader of the Muddy Pants."

OMAHA ENDS BEST GRIDIRON SEASON

two-point lead they had gained in the opening period.

With the ball on the 38-yard line and the Chadronites preparing to send up a victory cheer, Leo Pearey took the pass from center, evaded a swarm of Eagle tacklers, started toward the line of scrimmage and flipped a long pass near the goal, where "Tippy" Tyler, substitute halfback, who was playing with a broken thumb, leaped high to snag the ball and race over the line. Omaha missed the try-for-point but it didn't matter the try-for-point, but it didn't matter next kick-off.

The Chadron triumph was a successful conclusion to a successful grid year. To begin with, the schedule itself was an achievement, including better opposition than had previously been encountered by Cardinal teams.

The University of North Dakota was the Omahans' first opponent, and was unquestionably the outstanding aggregation yet to appear against the Cards. The Redbirds dropped a 14-to-0 decision on the Grand Forks field, but surprised everyone, including themselves, by their showing against the strong Nodaks, leaders of the North Central conference.

The Cardinals opened the home season by playing the tough Coe college eleven of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, to a scoreless tie. The Kowaks tied for first place in the Mid-West conference this year. Their record include a 26 to 0 victory over the Grinnell college Pioneers of the Missouri Valley conference.

The Cards got their first taste of touchdowns in the opening conference game with the Kearney Antelopes, played at League Park, pushing the Teachers all over the lot for a 38-0 victory.

Because of their showing against Kearney, Hartman's men were favorites to continue their scoring march a week later when they journeyed to Wayne for their second N. I. A. A. battle. But a heavy rain made the playing field more suitable for swimming than for football, with the result that the Omahans were held to a scoreless tie, their fourth straight draw with the Wildcats.

The Cardinals' return to League park for their homecoming game brought a return of scoring power that enabled them to whip the Peru Bobcats, 27 to 0. About 3,000 persons, the largest crowd of the season, witnessed this contest.

Ottawa College of Ottawa, Kans., next invaded the Omaha stronghold and managed to hold the Cards scoreless for two quarters, but the locals turned on the steam in the second half and walked off the field with a 26-0 win.

And then—Chadron.

A columnist on a college newspaper makes the discerning comment that while professors still object to being paid less than football coaches, the professor at least does not lose his job when his proteges fail to pass.

Activities for Winter Planned by Greeks

Now that the pledge dances are almost over, and Christmas vacation is only two weeks off, the Greeks are all very busy planning for their formal dances. The Kappa Psi Delta sorority, at their meeting Monday, December 3, at the Paxton Hotel, set their formal for sometime during March. They are planning to give a basket of food to some poor family for a Christmas present. And next Tuesday, December 11, their alumnae will give a Christmas party for the actives and pledges.

The Gamma Sigma Omicron sorority are planning to conduct a rummage sale either Friday or Saturday of this week. Peggy Higgins, chairman of the formal dance, which has been set for December 20, has secured George Shuey and his orchestra from Ames, Iowa.

Volley ball season is here again, and the Phi Delta Psi's have organized a sorority team, with Marcia Jackson as captain. No date has been set for the formal dance, but it will be sometime in February or March.

The Pi Omega Pi's will have Herbie Lowe and his South Dakota band for their Christmas dance on Christmas night, December 25, at the Knights of Columbus hall. They are also giving a Christmas party for the afternoon of Thursday, December 20, to which every girl will bring a present. The presents will then be put into a basket to be given to some poor family.

Plans are completed for the Sigma Chi Omicron formal dance on Friday, December 28, at Happy Hollow Club. Their rummage sale, which they held Saturday, November 24, was a great success, according to Doris Coonley, the president.

The Alpha Delta Chi's are also having their formal dance during Christmas vacation. It will be at the Chermot ball room on the evening of December 27.

And so far the Pan Hellenic Council have been working hard on a plan to eliminate the selling of bids, but nothing definite has been decided upon as yet. Bids are still being traded and auctioned off this year, but here's to the Pan-Hell. Maybe we'll have a better system next year.

Braves and Sig Chis Win Opening Games

The Intra-Mural Volley Ball Tournament started off with the Braves beating the Gammas last Wednesday night 40 to 35, and the Sig Chis downing the Barbarians 40 to 29. There are approximately 48 girls entered in the tournament. Six teams are playing for the championship.

The teams are: Sig Chi, captain, Wilma Pulliam; Pi O, captain, Maxine Steincamp; Kappa, captain, Anne Raymond; Gamma, captain, Elaine Coulter; Braves, captain, Catherine Shaw; and Barbarians, captain, Mary Brown.

The schedule is as follows:
December 5, 4-5 P. M.—Gamma vs. Braves; Sig Chi vs. Barbarians.
December 6, 4-5 P. M.—Kappa vs. Pi O; Gamma vs. Sig Chi.
December 10, 4-5 P. M.—Braves vs. Sig Chi; Kappa vs. Barbarians.
December 12, 12-1 P. M.—Sig Chi vs. Kappa, 4-5 P. M.—Braves vs. Barbarians.
December 13, 12-1 P. M.—Barbarians vs. Pi O, 4-5 P. M.—Braves vs. Pi O; Gamma vs. Kappa.
December 17, 4-5 P. M.—Pi O vs. Sig Chi; Braves vs. Kappa.

day that the North Central Conference officials had written Omaha requesting attendance at a meeting in Chicago this week-end.

The conference, including North Dakota University, North Dakota State College, South Dakota University, South Dakota State College, and Morningside College, is considered a very fast league, and Omaha's action upon this matter will be watched with great interest by those who have dreamed of Omaha becoming a big-time school.

One change that would affect the ruling at Omaha is that which prohibits freshmen playing on the varsity squad. Omaha played North Dakota University football team this season and lost by the score of 14 to 0.

in which the Omahans came through with the winning touch-down with less than a minute to play, when even their most ardent followers had given up the cause, testifies to the dogged determination and fighting spirit of a team that didn't lose because it would not lose.

Coach Hartman deserves unstinted praise for the manner in which he developed a big, rugged, but more or less unschooled squad into a polished machine which won the admiration of fans in all its appearances. Coming to Omaha with the birth of the Municipal University of Omaha in 1931, Coach Hartman faced a bleak outlook, but he systematically planned his campaign of improvement so his teams have shown steady progress and now are capable of battling on even terms teams that once were rated in a class far above that of Omaha.

One of the most pronounced features of the team is the community spirit shown by the players; a one-for-all and all-for-one attitude. They seem to realize they are pioneering on the grid-iron for their school, that they must work together to attain a prestige that older schools already have. That the Cardinals are rapidly achieving their aim is indicated by a glance at their 1934 record: One defeat, four victories, two ties—and a championship.

With the perpetuation of such spirit, and under the skillful guidance of Coach Hartman and Assistant Coach Warren Howard, the football fame of the University of Omaha will travel far o'er the land ere many falls have passed.

The 1934 season made Omaha football fans sit up and take notice. It made them finally realize they have a north side team of which they may well be proud.

And the 1935 season will only confirm their new-found belief.

Marshall Dunn, ex '35, was among the top 5 per cent in scholastic averages in his class at Northwestern university.

Harvesting tobacco and packing it in the barn for curing—and (below) a scene at a Southern tobacco auction.

MANY men of the South have been "in tobacco" for years—growing tobacco and curing it—buying it and selling it—until they know tobacco from A to Izzard.

Now folks who have been in tobacco all their lives, folks who grow it, know there is no substitute for mild ripe tobacco.

And down in the South where they grow tobacco and where they ought to know something about it—in most places Chesterfield is the largest-selling cigarette.
